True model compared to permuted outcome